HTML TAGS

BY V.MONISHA

21ECE031

HTML TAGS

- <abbr> : The <abbr> tag is a tag which is typically used for abbreviations or acronyms of longer words such as www, HTML, HTTP, etc.

- <area> : The <area> tag identify clickable Or active regions on an image-map associated with hyperlinks.

- <audio> : The <audio> tag helps in embedding the audio content in an HTML document without the need for an additional plug-in like flash

-  : The  tag in HTML specifies bold text without giving it any additional significance.

HTML TAGS:

- <base> : All relative URLs inside a document are given a common target address by the <base> tag

- <blockquote> : The <blockquote> tag gives a way to insert a quotation in the document from another source.

- <button>: The <button> tag represents clickable button and can be used in forms or anywhere in a document

- <col> : column properties are specified by the <col> tag for each column within a <colgroup> element

HTML TAGS:

- <data> : A machine-readable translation is added with the help of the <data> tag. Using this element, the processors can generate a machine-readable value and the browser can produce a human-readable value.

- <dd> : The <dd> tag represents 'definition description' in HTML and is used to describe or define an item in list of descriptions.

-  : The  tag indicates a deletion of a section of text from a document and the Web browsers render the deleted text as strikethrough text.

- <dl> : The <dl> tag represents a list of descriptions. A glossary or metadata can be displayed using this element.

HTML TAGS:

- <fieldset> : The <fieldset> tag is used to create a group of related elements in a form, as well as to create a box around the elements.

- <form> : The <form> tag of the HTML allows the users to submit information to a website

- <iframe> : using the iframe tag, another HTML document can be embedded within the current document.

- <link> : using <link> tag, an external resource is linked to the current document.

- <map> : An image map is defined by the <map> tag. Images have clickable areas.

HTML TAGS:

- <object> : The <object> tag is used to display multimedia like audios, videos, images, PDFs, and Flash in web pages.

- <picture> : The <picture> tag in HTML is used to give flexibility to the web-developers to specify image resources. The <picture> tag contains <source> and <img> tags

- <table> : the <table> tag Is used to represent the tabular data , i.e., information contained in a two-dimensional table comprised of rows and columns of cells

- <td> : <td> tags define a table cell. A table row may consist of more than one <td> element. The default alignment is left in this element